PUBLIC. Eric Duerst said during the second meeting in April it was announced that Council no longer was interested in hearing his stories which is essentially not permitting him to tell a story.

He understands the Public Input can have a timeline, and he has heard from two Councilmembers and Mayor that they enjoy his stories. His concern is this was not voted on and now eliminating his free speech. He would like a public vote on the issue. Council will discuss when there is a full Council. Discussion was held back and forth.

Eric Hayes said he would request a time limit of 3 minutes and he does not want to listen to the stories that do not pertain to city business.

Council will discuss at the next meeting. Eric Duerst asked that they wait until he can be in attendance too.
